

Carmind.com

Carmind is a website for people who love cars. Here we can find a group of people with the same interests as their own.

Carmind focuses on the research of cars in China and other countries. The performance and price comparisons of various cars are given by a dedicated person. Here, we will also talk about the development history of Chinese cars and other countries. Here customers can find people who share their own interests, because we have a special membership system for those who love cars. Efficient service is our aim, and our members have one-to-one troubleshooting service.

Personas

1. People who like cars
2. People who want to buy a new car but have many questions
3. People who want to know the car but don't know where to start

Comps

